

Why Timberline Furniture

Timberline Bathroom Products ensure that our products are manufactured using only high quality materials and workmanship.

We are committed to offering sustainably sourced wood laminates in our product materials. In fact, 30% post-consumer recycled wood materials are used in the production of our wood laminate boards.

Timberline wood laminates are crafted exclusively from fully reclaimed and recycled post-industrial wood remnants, ensuring that our panels are both sustainable and eco-friendly. We've replaced the utilization of post-industrial wood fibers with post-consumer wood materials in our panel manufacturing process, thereby advancing an innovative technology that fosters a circular economy. This approach guarantees an uninterrupted and renewable source of raw materials, all while safeguarding the environment for generations to come.

WHY USE RECYCLED WOOD LAMINATES?

- Durability compared to fragile veneers
- Cost
- Sustainability (not cutting down trees for this material)
- Full line of complementary products that match (5 piece doors, edgbanding, moulding)
- Machinability (easy to cut and work with)
